Farm notes: We are officially at the "Eat Your Greens" point with this box! Arugula is an easy add into a salad or stands alone quite well as its own salad. The Braising Mix straddles this line, depending on your willingness to chew a little! If you're going to cook it keep it brief. The Curly or Green Kale runs fantastically sliced finely in a salad and handles serious cooking as well. Tomatoes have faded out early this year as we are in the shadow of the intense heat back in late August and September; prolonged stretches above 95 degrees will blast the flowers, leaving us very little fruit now. For the past 3 weeks the plants have and continue to taunt us with luxurious displays of flowers, some of which have set fruit but we have no idea if they will make it to ripeness. If these warm days continue you might see some of that fruit in your boxes, especially the cherries and Early Girls. Today was our coldest morning yet; touching briefly on 51F and we had our first serious dew. There had been whispers of rain for this coming weekend (Think Pumpkin Party - Noon to 4pm!) but its pushing back at least until Halloween weekend. We remain steadfastly optimistic as we continue to plant for Winter and next Spring. More spinach, carrots and greens mixes going in this week; last week was the last planting of beets until the New Year. We are prepping ground for Winter wheat, cover crop and two onion nurseries are thriving and getting fat for their December and January transplant dates! The sheep have moved into the harvested Winter Squash field to finish off the remaining bits of weeds and squash plants as well as remnants of deer munched fruits.

Hope to see you at our Pumpkin Party this Saturday!
