Farm notes: Yes, with the arrival of melons it really feels like summer! Melons should be a staple for the next 2 months. Looks like we are in for a week of pretty intense as well. Yesterday, Sunday, we hit 108 for a bit in the afternoon and today we look to be headed for 105ish but as of 13:00 we have a nice breeze and we are just starting to bump up against 99. Harvest and field crews will head out early at 13:30, not so much because today feels so rough but we need to pace ourselves for a week of it. The saving grace so far has been nice cool mornings in the 60s so the heat doesn't clobber us until afternoon. The really tough hot days are the days it starts out at 75 at dawn and hits 100 by 10:30. Sending the crew home early means some things don't happen: today the big ones are not trellising tomatoes and not harvesting green beans or pickling cukes.

Pork Pricing: It is with trepidation that I announce we are bumping up our fresh pork prices at the end of this week. We will hold frozen pork steady for another 2 months. With price increases hitting us from all sides: feed, labor, processing and fuel we are struggling to break even. Part of why we are not raising any meat chickens this year as well. Jump on the frozen pork (all online pork orders) while it's less expensive! Email csa@riverdogfarm.com with any questions.

Enjoy the summer lusciousness!

Riverdog Tim

Frog Hollow CSA boxes come with 3-4 varieties of seasonal tree-ripened, exceptionally tasty stone fruits. As part of their commitment to sustainability, Frog Hollow works hard to avert food waste. You can expect to see ripe, cosmetically imperfect fruit and small or large pieces of fruit in the fruit boxes. These characteristics should not affect the deliciousness of what you receive.
